I have owned and operated 4 major Auction sales establishments, in Texas and Arizona. A Auctioneer is considered a SUPER SALESMAN ! In all aspects of The wordSalesmanship from initial contact until close of sale and beyond .Is an absolute lifeline in this business and I have mastered it for over 40 years! Unconditionally!!!

Skills Used

Being a Livestock auctioneer has provided a way for me to understand livestock supply veterinarian supply and those veterinarians that use them .I have a rapport with hundreds of veterinarians throughout the years that allows me to understand what they look for in their medicines at firsthand experience. I own several horses at the moment and have so all my life along with other livestock pets and dogs. I believe whether I'm selling cattle horses are livestock supply it's more about dealing with the people and knowing the lifestyle to be able to sell the products to them is extremely important .. To be a livestock auctioneer are an auctioneer of any type you must be a super salesman first and most of all. I believe this type of experience gives me an upper hand in the sales department. A long with a lifetime of over 40 years dealing with livestock and small animals.
